Commercial Saloon—This popular place, situated at 509 Commercial street, is up-to-date in every particular. The choicest of wines and all kinds of liquors can be procured here. Best quality cigars. Billiard table in connection. If you can't come in person, call up Phone 1231 Main.

Orders in Probate—Judge Trenchard yesterday made an order in probate court approving the semi-annual account of the executors of the estate of the late J. W. Suprenant, and ordering the payment of a number of claims against said estate. He also made an order confirming the sale of certain real estate belonging to the estate of the late Charles Nyquist.

Do You feel sleepy and not a bit like working in the afternoon? Perhaps it's because of the kind of lunch you're eating—too heavy an dtow hard to digest. Why not try the Palace restaurant on Commercial street, where all the baking is done in those famous slow-process ovens, which turn out light appetizing, wholesome things? You'll save money, too.

Christmas Holidays—Commencing December 15th, the retail stores of Astoria will keep open until 8 o'clock p. m., in order to give people who cannot trade in the day time an opportunity of doing their Christmas shopping in the evening.

Ladies—Embroidery Club, no charge for joining. Lessons free. See sample Christmas gifts, fancy underwear to order, shirt waists, fancy aprons, pillow tops, etc., in eyelet and shadow work. Stamping: M. M. Keefe, Megler House. 12-9-11

On Monday Next—The funeral of the late O. G. Olsen, which was to have taken place at Skamokawa today, has been deferred until Monday, tomorrow, when Rev. G. E. Rydquist will be able to go there to officiate at the solemn service.

Christmas—On page three of this paper appears the Xmas ad of the Brownsville Woolen Mill store. It will pay you to read it and go and see their line of Xmas specialties in wearing apparel and fancy blankets.

Another Citizen To Be—George M. Mill, a native of Lima, Greece, yesterday filed his formal declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States with County Clerk Clinton, and will appear before Judge McBride on the 7th of March next to make good in the matter.

Thoroughly Equipped—The approach of the great Christmas holiday season is always signified by the new and exquisite things appearing from day to day, in the windows and cases of J. H. Seymour, Astoria's foremost jeweler, and the giver of dainty Christmas gifts never has occasion to go further in making his or her selections. It is the same, this year, as ever.

Lost Two Fingers—Still Wolgee, a young Australian, employed by the Kelly Lumber Company at Warrenton, had the misfortune late on Friday afternoon to run his hand into contact with one of the band saws at that plant whereby he later sacrificed two of his fingers (the two middle fingers on the left hand), at St. Mary's hospital, Dr. J. A. Fulton performing the operation. He was getting along nicely yesterday evening.

Jetty Damaged—Wm. McKane was up from Hammond yesterday and reports that two bents were washed out of the jetty at the outer end during the storm of Thursday night. This makes five bents that have been carried away this winter, being about all of the work that was done during the past year. Without a continuing appropriation from congress, it is considered a waste of money to continue work by those who understand the situation.

Lumber Advancing—According to opinions expressed by local lumber mill men, there will be another advance in the price of common and dressed lumber on January 1. A meeting of all the loggers and mill men on the Columbia river has been called to consider the matter and fix the price of lumber. A sharp advance in the price of logs, together with the increasing demand for lumber, is attributed as the cause for raising the price.

Under Examination—Charles Ecklund, a well known citizen of Warrenton and this county, was informally examined yesterday afternoon to ascertain his mental condition, some complaint having been made to the county authorities on this score. Doctors J. A. Fulton and August Kinney conducted the investigation which resulted in Mr. Ecklund being pronounced sane and sent back to his home. He is stilling somewhat from a recent accident in one of the mills there, and this, with other matters, led to the investigation.

Street Improvements—Contractors are complaining of their inability to complete street improvements on account of the stormy weather, while streets in the residence districts are almost impassable, making it difficult to get supplies or wood. Contractors claim the fault lies with the common council, in not making arrangements for improvements early in the spring, and that it costs 25 per cent more to improve streets in the winter than in the summer, this being proven by the increase in the bids presented, and which have to be paid by the property owners.

Vicious Work—Early yesterday morning sometime, certain vandals deliberately wrecked three of the new and fine arc lights installed by the Astoria Electric Company, casting loose the gear by which they were held aloft and leaving them ruined in the streets over which they hung. The dirty work was done in Upper-town and Alderbrook and was one of the meanest and most uncalled-for tricks ever done in Astoria. It is hoped the company may secure definite information upon which to proceed to reprisals against the perpetrators and that their lesson may be such as will last a life-time. Such capers as this are a menace to the safety of the public, as well as a willful and groundless attack upon private property.

"100 to 1 Shot"—The Waldorf is presenting this week another of its famous and interesting kinnetoscope films, in which a splendid story of pluck and prowess is told very vividly and with, of course, perfect realism. The long and brilliant string of pictures tells the story of an old couple in an Eastern city, over-borne by poverty, on the verge of being cast from their humble home by a heartless landlord and his minions; the humble sacrifice of the aged mother in offering her old and worn bridal jewels in abatement of the indignity; the young son's swift solution of the predicament by taking the jewels to the pawnshop, gathering a few dollars upon them and then hawarding these at the races on a "100 to 1" shot, and winning. His return to the stricken home; the payment of the old debt; the purchase of the whole house and premises and his "free-for-all" deal with the minions of the police and the landlord. It is one of the best presentations made in this city in many a day.

Larceny-by-Bait—Lum Quin, a local Chinaman was arrested yesterday morning by Sheriff Pomeroy, upon a warrant issued upon the sworn information of Rae Philbert, who accuses the Mongolian of taking and withholding from her, a set of diamond earrings; four solitaire diamond rings; a Chinese gold ring set with a diamond; and $462 in coin of the realm. The warrant for his arrest was fortified by a search warrant, which was applied by the sheriff to the safe and other secretive elements of furniture in and about his domicile on Bond street, with the result that the whole outfit was recovered and is now in legal custody of the court. Lum claims the money and jewelry were given him by the money advanced and stood as security for a debt of $1,400. The case will be tried on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Word From Panama—Mayor Wise was the pleased recipient last evening of a postal from First Lieutenant G. Ferrero, of the Italian warship Dogall, and who made so pleasant an impression with those whom he met here last summer, and who, among other things, expressed the desire to be happily remembered to all good friends in Astoria, claiming for himself a lasting memory of the courtesies shown him and his colleagues while here. He and several other officers of the Dogall have been ordered home to Italy and are awaiting their relief to arrive.

Police Court—Four cases were called in the police court yesterday. Three gentlemen left $25 each deposit for their appearance on a charge of gambling, which was declared forfeited. William Jackal was charged with being drunk. He took it as a joke, but Judge Anderson notified him that it was no joke, and as evidence thereof he sent him down to Gamma's beanery for two days.

Trees Blown Down—James Jamison was in from Jewell yesterday and reports a number of trees blown down along the Nehalem road, but the supervisor and farmers cut them out, and the road is now clear. From parties up from Seaside yesterday, it is reported that a number of trees were blown across the Elk Creek road and one of the bridges was damaged. Supervisor Irvin has had a force of men at work clearing the road and it will be open for travel Monday.

STAR THEATER.

Sunday night's performance of "Woman Against Woman" will be the last of that place and this clever company of players will begin their second week in the comedy drama of "A Flag of Truce." This play was originally produced in New York city some fifteen years ago and was an unequalled success. A success that was kept up for a number of years on the road, during which time it has had many notable casts. It is a play clean and crisp, both as to lines and action, telling a story replete with comedy. The present company will show to excellent advantage and the merit of this production should draw full houses.

David Hood of Portland is in the city on his regular visit to customers.

AN ORGAN, $35.00

A real, good, neat-appearing parlor high-top organ in a walnut case that is without a mar. It's second-hand, of course, but is not old at all. It has been cleaned up, what little was necessary, to give it a good-as-new look, and the reeds are in perfect order; $3 or $4 per month will take it. We have a brand new organ bargain, too, in a five octave Burdette make. It has a very handsome walnut case, high top, mirror, etc. It is to be sold at a saving to you of twenty dollars, on $5 terms.
